Introduction

This leave policy outlines the guidelines governing the leave entitlements, accrual and usage for employees of the organisation. The policy is designed to ensure fair and consistent application of leave benefits, support employee well-being and enable effective workforce and project planning while meeting statutory and operational requirements.

Type of Leaves

As per company's leave policy, leave types are categorised into two main categories:

- a) Monthly Leaves
- b) Additional Leaves

Each comprising of specific sub-categories as defined under the respective leave provisions.

Leave Provisions

Monthly Leaves

Leaves are provided on a monthly pro-rata basis and are accrued at the beginning of each month. Employees are entitled to a total of 24 leaves per year, comprising Casual Leave (CL) and Privilege Leave (PL). Employees are expected to plan and apply for their leaves in advance through the HRIS Leave Management System to enable effective project and resource planning.

1. Casual Leave:

Purpose

The purpose of the Casual Leave Policy is to enable employees to plan short-term time off from work for personal and unforeseen requirements. Casual Leave may be availed for reasons such as rest and de-stressing, personal commitments, appearing for examinations, family events (including marriage of family members), minor illness, or other personal exigencies.

Eligibility

This Policy is applicable to:

- All Full-time employees of FiftyFive Technologies Pvt Limited including support staff, trainees and probationers.

This policy is not applicable to:

- Business Associates, Associate Consultant / Contractual Employee, Freelancers

Provisions

a) Entitlement:

- The employees are entitled to 12 working days of Casual leave every year.
- The year for the purpose of leave accounting is the year from January to December.
- These types of leaves are a part of the total of 24 leaves allowed to an employee in a year that can be taken for some casual work.
- The casual leave will be credited on a pro rata monthly basis, i.e. 1 in a month.
- The leave entitlement for the year is prorated every month to arrive at the monthly entitlement.
- The entitlement for each month is credited at the beginning of each month.
- All Unutilized Causal leaves lapse at the end of the calendar year and cannot be reimbursed through any monetary means.

b) Availing the benefits:

- The leave may be prefixed and or suffixed with other leave types/weekends/statutory holidays. Intervening weekends and holidays are not counted as Casual Leave days and cannot be combined with Paternity Leave, Maternity Leave, Adoption Leave, Exam Leave.
- These leaves can only be combined with Privilege leave; Floater Leave and Bereavement Leave.
- Leaves may be applied for a minimum of half a day.
- Employees may apply for leave multiple times during the year, subject to availability of the balance. However, such applicants must not violate the principle and purpose for which casual leave is provided.
- Leave when availed more than 2 days needs to be informed well in advance before a prior notice of 7 days.
- The leave days in a request may span across the years.
- The leaves cannot be applied after availing the same, hence no back-date leaves can be applied. If not, the applied prior may use his/her discretion to convert this into a Loss of pay.
- If the employee applies for Casual Leave but does not avail of the same due to any reason, he/she may choose to cancel the same.

c) Special Scenarios

- New Joined:

The employee can avail leave if he/she has sufficient balance.

Casual Leave for employees who join during the year will be credited after their first payroll run and their entitlement will be prorated based on their joining.

- Employee goes on leave without pay (LWP):

The employee is not entitled to leave when he/she is on leave without pay, hence there will be no leave of credit for the duration of the LWP.

- Employee serving notice period:

The employee serving period cannot avail of Casual leave at the time they have started serving the notice period.

- Employee in Performance Improvement Plan (PIP):

The employee in PIP cannot avail of Casual leave at this time.

Terms and Conditions

- You are not allowed to apply past day leave. Your manager or HR manager can apply on your behalf.
- Casual Leave requires comment while applying for leave.
- Casual Leave cannot be applied when in the notice period and during the performance improvement plan.
- Casual Leave cannot be taken along with Paternity Leave, Maternity Leave, Exam Leave, Adoption Leave.
- In case the leave is rejected after it is availed, and the employee is still on leave, it will be considered a loss of pay and the employee will be subject to disciplinary actions based on HR's discretion.
- During the leave period, the employee cannot take up any part-time or full-time employment of remuneration or otherwise, for any reason whatsoever.

Approval Workflow:

- The leave goes for two levels of approval: to the employee's immediate Reporting Manager and to the Branch Head.

2. Privileged Leave (PL)Purpose

This Policy is designed to enable employees to plan their time off from work. The purpose of the privilege leave policy is to grant the employee a fixed number of days off from work. As a benefit they have earned on account of working for a specific number of days in a particular period.

Eligibility*This Policy is applicable to:*

- All Full-time employees of FiftyFive Technologies Pvt Limited including trainees and probationers.

This policy is not applicable to:

- Support Staff, Business Associates, Associate Consultant / Contractual Employee, Freelancers

Provisions

a) Entitlement:

- The employees are entitled to 12 working days of Privilege Leaves every year.
- The year for the purpose of leave accounting is the year from January to December.
- These types of leaves are a part of the total of 24 leaves allowed to an employee in a year.
- The leave of entitlement for the year is prorated on a monthly basis to arrive at the monthly entitlement. The entitlement for each month is credited at the beginning of each month.
- Employees can avail the leave balance of upcoming months in advance based on the accumulated balance of projection.
- Leaves that are entitled to be carried forward will be up to the days as maximum of 12 in a year.
- The encashment is processed in the financial year, i.e. March month.
- The maximum accumulation of privilege leave balances is capped at a maximum of 24 days. Number of days left in excess of 24, accumulated till the end of the calendar year are treated as “Surplus” in the month of December.
- Any excess beyond 24 days will be subject to encashment, and employees will be required to either avail of those leaves or the surplus balance into encashment.

b) Availing the benefits:

- Employees may apply for leave multiple times during the year, subject to availability of the balance to be informed well in advance of at least 15 days of notice. However, such applicants must not violate the principle and purpose for which casual leave is provided.
- Leaves may be applied for a minimum of full days. There is no limit on the maximum number of days, subject to availability of balance.
- In a month, employees can avail maximum up to 5 days of Privilege leave.
- In a year, employees can avail maximum up to 12 days of Privilege leave.
- The leaves cannot be applied after availing the same, hence no back date leaves can be applied. If not applied prior may use his/her discretion to convert this into Loss of pay.
- If the employee applies Privilege Leave but does not avail of the same due to any reason, he/she may choose to cancel the same.
- The leave may be prefixed and or suffixed with weekends/statutory holidays. Intervening weekends and holidays are not counted as privilege leave days and cannot be combined with Maternity, Adoption, Paternity and Exam Leaves.
- The encashment formula is followed as mentioned below:
Encashment amount = (last drawn basic salary of the last calendar year /number of days within a year) * eligible leave balance.

c) Special Scenarios:

- New Joined:

1. The employee can avail leave if he/she has sufficient balance.
2. Privilege leave is credited only after the employee has served his probation period.

- Employee goes on leave without pay (LWP):

Note: The employee can also view the details of previous leaves availed and outstanding balance through the KEKA app.

Approval Workflow:

- The leave goes for two levels of approval: to the employee's immediate Reporting Manager and to the Branch Head.

Leave Calculation of Monthly Leaves:

Let us frame examples to understand better-

CASE I: For Casual Leaves

Let us assume that Ram joined FiftyFive on 1st January and avails 5 leaves till September.

As per the leave policy, his accrued leave till September is $1 \times 9 = 9$ (1 leave provided per month).

So, after consuming his 5 leaves, the balance available for September is 4 leaves out of 9 accrued so far and the remaining balance will be 3 out of a total annual quota of 12 till December.

CASE II: For Privilege leaves

Let us assume that Ram joined FiftyFive on 1st January and avails 5 leaves till September.

As per the leave policy, his accrued leaves till September is $1 \times 9 = 9$ (1 leave provided per month).

So, after consuming his 5 leaves, the balance available in September is 4 leave out of 9 accrued so far and remaining balance will be 3 out of total annual quota of 12 till December.

Let us assume that Ram has completed 3 years with FiftyFive and wants to know his total balance of PL and the encashment process.

As per the leave policy, his entitlement of leaves till December is $1 \times 12 = 12$ (1 leave provided per month).

The same pointer is applied for next both years. So, his total leave balance would be of 36 ($12 + 12 + 12$) from which his extra leave balance exceeding from 24 will be eligible for encashment i.e. 12 which will be encashed to him in the financial year i.e. in March and rest balance will be carried forward again until availed.

Incase Ram resigns between the third year or so, then his accumulated balance (24 carried forward leaves and accumulated till that year) will be given as encashment during his full and final settlement.

Let us assume that Ram has completed 3 years with FiftyFive and wants to consume his leaves along with encashment.

As per the leave policy, his entitlement of leaves till December is $1 \times 12 = 12$ (1 leave provided per month)

Privilege Leave (PL) Calculation – Illustrated Through Table

Year	Opening Leave Balance	Total Annual Quota	Availed Leave	Carried Forward Leave Balance
2024	0	12	5	7
2025	7	12	3	16
2026	16	12	1	27 (24 carried forward to 2027 and 3 encashed)
2027	24	12	0	36 (24 carried forward to 2028 and 12 encashed)
